

"Why We Are Members"

There are many reasons to be a member. See what our members are saying.

"Being on the Board of the Lee BIA and getting an "inside view" of what this Association does for our industry has truly been enlightening. Michael Reitmann, JoAnn Orr and the entire staff dedicate themselves daily to supporting and fighting for our industry."

-Mark Stevens, Stevens Construction

"I have learned over the years that the best way to meet potential clients and referral sources is to become a volunteer in the Association that supports and protects their industry. By serving on a committee and on the Board, I have been able to meet many of the successful builders and developers in the marketplace. This has been a great first step to meet and eventually work with members who use my services."

-Larry Corbett, Citizens First Mortgage

"My company is a member because it offers networking opportunities and the opportunity to meet with both Residential and Commercial builders."

-Dendle Miller, Colonial Bank

"I am a member of the Lee BIA because it provides me with a great opportunity to network with professionals in the building industry as well as marketing opportunities for my own business."

-Andrew Belisle, Oswald Trippe & Company

"Our company is a member because of the great opportunity to network, meet new contacts and grow our business within the community. Our first trade show booth was very successful in bringing new customers to RSC. We are very pleased with the results of our membership."

-Melissa McGregor, RSC Equipment Rental

"Being a member of the Lee BIA gives my company and myself exposure to many business associates in the related fields of our industry. The BIA has given Vogue Interiors the opportunity of more business through referrals that would not have ordinarily happened. The BIA works very hard for their members behind the scenes and I have witnessed this first hand. I appreciate all they try to do to make our business a success."

-Debbie DeMaria, Vogue Interiors

"I am proud to be a strong supporter of the Lee BIA. Knowledge is your best defense in this rapidly changing industry and BIA membership is the single most-authoritative source of housing information. Even though times are tough, I do not believe that there is a better way to expose yourself to the builders who are staying the course than through the BIA. I believe that when the economy turns around, those builders will remember those willing to stand beside them."

-Sherry Weeks, Great Southern Window & Door

For more information about Lee Building Industry Association membership visit www.BIA.net.